Burma Shave Signs

For those who never saw the Burma shave signs, here is a quick lesson in U.S. automotive history of the 1930s and 40s. Before the Interstates, when everyone drove the old two-lane roads, Burma Shave signs would be posted all over the countryside in farmers' fields. They were small red signs about 4' wide x 1' high, with white letters. There were five signs, about 100 feet apart, each containing one line of a four-line couplet, with the obligatory 5th sign advertising Burma Shave, a popular shaving cream. Here are some of the actual signs which old geezers will recall.

Drove too long
Driver Snoozing,
What happened next
Is not amusing.

Don't lose your head
To gain a minute
You need your head
Your brains are in it.

At intersections
Look each way
A harp sounds nice
But it's hard to play.

Brother speeder,
Let's rehearse
All together now,
"Good Morning, nurse."

The one who drives
When he's been drinking
Depends on you
To do his thinking.

Passing school zone
Take it slow
Let our little shavers
Grow.

No matter the price,
No matter how new
The best safety device
In the car is you.

Deadly thoughts
About lights that shine -
"If he won't dim his
I won't dim mine."

Both hands on the wheel
Eyes on the road
That's the skillful
Driver's code.

POINTS TO PONDER

"Don't put the key to your happiness in someone else's pocket - keep it in your own."

What some people mistake for the high cost of living is really the cost of living high.

Always be yourself...because the people that matter, don't mind and the one's that mind, don't matter.
